Letters to Refugees

Ian Carmody
Emery Monnig
Micah Marshall
Zach Scott
Tony Ricciuto

Follow this and additional works at: https://corescholar.libraries.wright.edu/celia_symphony_ephemera

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons, and the Social and Behavioral Sciences Commons
Chaminade Julienne High School

The Senior Capstone: Across-curricular, inquiry-based research project. Students are challenged to apply all the lessons of their four-year Catholic educational experience by actualizing the traditions of our school’s founding orders. There are approximately 40 different projects every year.
Why we chose this topic...
Writing The Letters!

- Share some things about yourself.
- No right or wrong answers, simply a letter of hope to support the struggling refugees.
- Make it colorful!
- Draw Pictures!
St. Albert the Great
My name is Alice and I go to Elementary School. I like animals and nature. I also like to color. I sent this card to you because I don't know what you'll get this card but as this project four next week is Valentine's Day. Here's a message: Thank you. Whatever you are and whatever you ask, I hope your life gets better.

Love,
Alice

Dear friends,

My name is Sarah. I am 10 years old and I live in London. I can write very well. I am in the sixth grade in London. I am a very good writer. I am also a very good reader. I love to write and read. Do you like to write and read? I do. I really like to write and read. I love to write and read. Stay happy.

Sarah

You're awesome.
Dear friend,

What a difficult time this must be. Even on my worst days, I could never imagine or compare to all that you have gone through. Please take comfort in knowing that all of the Chanelle Fulmore community and I are thinking about you and praying for your safety and well-being. I hope you always remember that you are not alone. You are so loved and worth more than you could ever imagine. If you ever feel alone, praying to God can really help! But whatever you do, never give up hope!

Praying for you,

Claire
No matter how chaotic it is, wildflowers will still spring up in the middle of nowhere...
130 Letters
“The future depends on what we do in the present.”

-Mahatma Gandhi