SOUTH BOSTON AVIATOR SAVED

Attacked in France by Four German Machines

SERGT ROBERT SOUBIRAN

South Boston Boy Saved From Death by One of His Comrades.

SOMEWHERE ON THE FRENCH FRONT, Aug 26—Lieut Raoul Lufberry of the Lafayette Escadrille saved his colleague in a patrol flight, Sergt Robert Soubiran, of South Boston, from probable death today when Soubiran was suddenly attacked by four German machines of the Albatross type while he was flying at a low altitude.

The German machines were over Soubiran, attempting to down him, when Lufberry seeing his companion's plight, darted at the enemy aviators scattering them and allowing Soubiran to escape.

Lieut Lufberry was warmly praised by the officers and men of the command for his bravery in attacking single-handed four of the enemy machines.
