June 30, 2017: Weekly message from Interim President Curtis McCray

It has been an honor to work with you and for you.

Together, we have wrestled with an important challenge, which you met with great passion, resolve, and wisdom. Your effort to find a solution has been great. My respect for you is even greater.

The last three and a half months from my perspective have been necessary and critical to sustaining the on-going success of Wright State University--and critical to ensuring the bright future of this great place. You are members of a strong institution awash with successes. Don't be fooled by those who just report your challenges.

You are emerging leaner, stronger and poised even more now, to thrive. I know you will continue to rely on strong ethical values and your ever-burning passion for the important work you provide the university and the communities Wright State serves.

I wish you well in the coming months and years with President Schrader. She is very lucky to have you. And you to have her.

Thank you for your kindness. Thank you for your hard work. Thank you for your unwavering commitment to students.

Thank you for allowing me, if only for a short while, to call myself a Raider.

Curtis L. McCray
