November 9, 2017 - From the President's Desk

It's time to chart the future.

As we celebrate Wright State University's 50th birthday, we are beginning the strategic planning process for our next 50 years. It's time to define who we are, what makes Wright State unique, and how we can best meet the needs of our students and our region moving forward.

One of the first steps in the university's strategic planning process is the formation of a Strategic Planning Steering Committee. The committee will include broad representation from our campus community, business and regional partners, alumni, and university supporters.

President Cheryl B. Schrader requests your assistance to help identify this team of forward-thinking, collaborative, committed individuals willing to devote their time and efforts to shape Wright State's future by serving on the Strategic Planning Steering Committee.

Be sure to tell us about the diverse strengths and insights your nominee will bring to the strategic planning process. Nominations will be accepted through Friday, November 17.

We also continue to ask for your thoughts and dreams for Wright State's future by imagining that it is 10 years from now and Wright State University has met its most important goals: What does the university look like and how is it different from today?
