Chair's Message

The importance of the surgical residency and the diverse faculty members in our department to the greater Dayton medical community and the Air Force cannot be overstated. We attract top-notch residents in both the Air Force and civilian sectors. The quality and leadership of the surgical faculty in the Dayton area are well known. We are just beginning to develop national recognition due to the activity of our students, residents and faculty who are presenting at national meetings and publishing their research, including at the Academic Surgical Congress and the Association for Surgical Education. Congratulations to all those who have worked so hard to achieve success in this arena!

Recruitment

We are recruiting for acute care surgeons at the Assistant, Associate or Full Professor levels. If you know of good candidates, please contact Dr. Peter Ekeh.

Faculty

Ronald Markert, Ph.D., was invited to present the keynote addresses "Impact of Obesity and Diabetes on the Management of Rib Fracture Patients" and "NIHSS Elements Associated with the Presence of a large Vessel Occlusive Stroke" at Dubai International Healthcare Summit in December. He also presented two papers!

Zaiba Malik, M.D., is featured on the Wright State University Newsroom and Boonshoft School of Medicine web pages. For full details, please see: <http://webapp2.wright.edu/web1/newsroom/2018/01/24/clinical-assistant-professor-committed-to-fighting-blindness-in-developing-nations/zaiba-malik-surgery-1/>

Faculty Appointments

The following have been approved for faculty appointments with Wright State University Department of Surgery:

Paula Galloway, D.O. — Clinical Assistant Professor
Yusef Hagi, MB, Bch — Clinical Assistant Professor
Mukarram Khan, D.O. — Clinical Assistant Professor

Residents

The American College of Surgeons (ACS) will offer a limited number of scholarships to resident members who are interested in attending the Leadership & Advocacy Summit 2018, May 19–22, in Washington, D.C.

This scholarship award will cover up to $500 in housing and transportation costs and may be used to pay registration fees; however, it may not be used to cover food or beverage charges, as all meals are provided at the conference. You must be a U.S. resident member in good standing with the ACS to qualify for one of these scholarships.

Wellness Corner

The NEJM has a resident page that has a resident blog as well as information addressing issues for residents regarding debt management, starting residency and burnout, and videos of recent articles. resident360.nejm.org/pages/home

If you have any information you would like to share with the other members of the department, or professional or special events happening in your life, please e-mail Lynne at Lynne.Buckingham@wrightstatephysicians.org by the 15th of the month. The Faculty and Staff Update will be e-mailed the first of the month.

Scholarships will be awarded to a broad representation of all ACS resident members. Special consideration will be given to first-time attendees, as well as candidates in the senior years of their residency programs. Scholarships will not be distributed on a first-come, first-served basis.

Scholarship recipients will be expected to meet the following requirements:

- Participate in one or two advocacy or ACS membership-focused conference calls or webinars within six months following the Summit.
- Stay for all programming May 20–21, with preference given to those residents planning to stay through Congressional Lobby Day on May 22.

To apply, submit the following information to D'Arcey Johnson at djohnson@facs.org before February 23:

- Name
- Contact information (address, e-mail, phone, cell phone)
- Institution and year of residency
- A brief summary (no longer than one page) explaining why this opportunity interests you, what you hope to gain from it, and how you plan to use the knowledge you obtain.
- Proposed travel dates

Scholarship winners will be announced on or before March 2 to provide ample time to register and make travel arrangements. For more information, visit the Summit website or contact D'Arcey Johnson at djohnson@facs.org or 202-337-2701.

Students

The 10th Annual Medical Student Research Symposium is scheduled for April 11, 2018, from 5-7 p.m. The abstract submission deadline is March 1. If you are working with any medical students on a research project, then please encourage them to submit their work.

Third-year medical students practice central lines at the skills lab hosted by the VA Simulation Center on January 17, 2018.
