   A. The Grade “X” to be made available for use in Honors Courses--Charles Funderburk, Chair, University Undergraduate Curriculum and Academic Policy Committee
      Background: On November 6, 1995, the Honors Committee (Richard Mercer, Chair) passed a resolution that the grade of “X” be added to the list of grades available for use in Honors courses. Currently the only grades available for use in Honors courses are A, B, C, and T. The registrar converts all grades of D, F, or X given in Honors courses to a grade of T. The T grade results in no credit and has no effect on a student’s GPA. It is the opinion of the Honors Committee that the grade of “X” would be appropriate for students who do not complete an Honors course as in all other courses, and should be made available for use by instructors of Honors courses.
