POLL FINDS LITTLE REACTION TO GOLDING'S RESIGNATION

BY CATHY MADIGAN

"It's a shock," said golding's replacement, Sue LortoK, senior in business administration, "I thought he would be staying. But that's not my business."

Many students (and professors) were caught at a loss for words. "I never thought it would happen," said Michael i) passing a new constitution, then I would fulfill all the duties of student body president," said m. "I hope WWSU can correct lower book prices, students on campus activities, and give financial aid to students in need."

The original appropriation of the SBP was for the first time a 60,000 budget. A $19,000 budget for the students of Wright State University, "I hope WWSU can correct lower book prices, students on campus activities, and give financial aid to students in need."

The current constitution was written by the Student Senate's constitution committee made up of several senators, selected members of the Student Government, and a student advisor. The Student Senate, in turn, is in charge of the Constitution committee. The Constitution committee is in charge of writing the constitution.

The Senate Senate $100 is for the advancement of black unity, for the student to be held April 18.

Selecting selectees critically in presidential election process

Dear Student,

In light of the recent developments in the United States, it is crucial that we critically assess the selection process for the next president. This will not only affect the future of our nation but also shape the course of global politics.

We must ensure that the selection process is fair and transparent. The criteria for selecting candidates should be clear and objective. The media should play a crucial role in this process by providing a platform for candidates to present their policies and visions.

Additionally, we must ensure that the selection process is inclusive and representative. It is essential to have candidates from diverse backgrounds and perspectives to bring about a more inclusive society.

Finally, we must ensure that the selection process is accountable. The selection committee should be held accountable for their decisions and actions.

In conclusion, the selection process for the next president is a critical matter that affects the future of our nation. We must ensure that it is fair, transparent, inclusive, and accountable.

Sincerely,

Harry

Letters to the Editor

Minamyer pleases editor

Dear Editor,

The recent decision by Minamyer to close the student government office has raised concerns among students. Many students feel that this move is arbitrary and unfair. It is important that the student government continue to be an active and visible presence on campus.

Sincerely,

Jane Doe

Running WSU from top down

The Provost has announced new appointments to the executive committee, effective immediately. The new committee includes the provost, the chancellor, and the vice presidents for academic and student affairs. This change is expected to streamline decision-making and improve the efficiency of the university.

Sincerely,

The Provost

Support Minamyer

Dear Lakehead Students,

I am writing to encourage you to support Minamyer in its efforts to modernize the student government. Minamyer is committed to providing a more efficient and effective student government that can better serve you.

Sincerely,

John Smith

I never understood

Dear Editor,

In light of the recent events surrounding the appointment of the new president, I would like to express my disappointment with the selection process. The criteria for selecting the new president were not transparent, and the final decision was made without consideration of the input of the student body.

Sincerely,

John Smith

Glenn McCarthy group

Dear Editor,

I am writing to inform you about the Glenn McCarthy group, which is currently planning a protest against the upcoming presidential election. The group plans to hold a rally on campus next month to express their views on the election.

New physical education courses approved for fall; gradual implementation

At a recent meeting of the Academic Council, three new physical education courses were approved for the fall semester. These courses are designed to meet the curriculum requirements of the university and to enhance the education of students majoring in physical education.

HPR 232 (3) Sports Skills 1: Learning of skills required in teaching methods and when each can be taught. The course will be offered in the fall semester.

HPR 233, 240, 330. These courses are designed for students studying the secondary level with an emphasis on the future role of physical education in the secondary education program. The courses will be offered in the spring semester.

HPR 381 (4) Methods of Teaching: A study of the techniques of teaching and the role of the teacher in the educational process. The course will be offered in the spring semester.

These courses are designed to provide a comprehensive program of physical education education for students majoring in physical education. The courses will be offered on a rotating basis each semester, with at least one course offered in the fall semester and one in the spring semester.

The courses will be taught by experienced physical education educators who have a deep understanding of the field and have been successful in their work. The courses will provide students with the skills and knowledge necessary to become effective physical education teachers and to contribute to the improvement of physical education programs in the community.

The Academic Council approved the courses at its recent meeting, and the university will implement them gradually over the next few years. The university will continue to evaluate the effectiveness of the courses and to make any necessary adjustments to ensure that they meet the needs of students and the community.
