VI. Old Business: None

VII. New Business:

Change of Engineering 499 (Special Problems in Engineering) from ABCDF to ABCDF/PU. A motion was made and seconded to approve this change. It will appear as Old Business and be voted upon at the March meeting.

VIII. Announcements and Special Reports:

A. General Education, William Rickert.

William Rickert is Chair of the General Education Review Committee (a subcommittee of the Curriculum Committee). The committee's dominant work will be assessment. The focus will be on qualitative rather than quantitative concerns, and the committee will not recommend external testing for assessment purposes. Questions will be asked of the faculty, students, alumni, and other interested parties as to what they think is happening with general education; and, is it accomplishing what we want it to do? A specific issue the committee is looking at is large classes in general education—specifically, two sections that had 400+ students in the fall quarter were reviewed. Student evaluations show above-average satisfaction with the two courses. Grades were slightly lower than those given in smaller sections. The withdrawal rate was approximately the same. The committee will continue to look into this issue. This is not a final report on the matter.
B. Insurance, Richard Johnson reporting:

President Paige Mulhollan appointed a university benefits task force comprised of faculty and staff, chaired by Richard Johnson. The changes in the medical plan provisions that were made in July 1989 did not solve the ongoing problem of rising health care costs; therefore, the task force's charge is to study health care benefits provided to WSU employees and propose alternative measures for future changes.

It was suggested that one way employees could help limit some cost increases now, is by saving their medical bills and filing one claim for all charges related to a single illness or injury, rather than filing a separate claim for each charge.

Possibilities that have been discussed by the task force include:

1. Increasing employee contributions, deductibles and co-payments;

2. Offering each employee the option of choosing between plans with differing deductibles and plan provisions;

3. Adopting a preferred provider organization where employees must use a limited number of hospitals and physicians to maximize benefits;

4. Indexing employee contributions based on pay; and

5. Grouping the university's employees with those of several other employers to seek more power in negotiating with health care providers.

The committee will make decisions within the next few months. Undoubtedly, though, the university must consider sharing more of the costs with employees.

C. Developments in Columbus. Dr. Lillie Howard's report was deferred until the next meeting.

D. The Winter Quarter General Faculty Meeting: February 13, 1990, 3:30 p.m., Medical School Auditorium.

E. Next Academic Council: March 5, 1990, 3:10 p.m.

IX. Adjournment.
